1. For Basic Specialist Training, the minimum duration of training is four years. This is divided into eight periods, each of which must last for six continuous calendar months. Training periods of less than 6 months duration will require prior approval from the College.
2. For Higher Specialist Training, the minimum duration of training is two years. This may be divided into periods, each of which must be of at least 3 completed months duration. Periods of training of less than 3 months duration would require prior approval by the College.
3. Leaves taken before 1st July 2003: During Basic Specialist Training, absence from recognized College training of more than 40 working days in a six-month period will render that period ineffective. During Higher Specialist Training, absence from recognized College training of more than 20 working days in a three-month period (or a pro-rata calculation if longer than three months) will render that period ineffective.
4. With Effect from 1st July 2003, the following rules will apply on all trainees:
 - Absence from College recognized training of 40 calendar days due to vacation leave and/or study leave within a six months training period (or 20 calendar days in a three months period at higher training) will require remedial training. Absence from College recognized training of total 90 calendar days within the whole specialist training period due to maternity leave, sick leave, special leave, or any other reasons will require additional remedial training. The trainee should notify the College as soon as the 90 days allowance has been exceeded, and submit an application for remedial training within three months (double penalty will not apply to trainees who took leave under item 3).
5. With Effect from 17th November 2005, short study leave (up to 10-14 day duration) during the 6-month period at basic training or 3-month period at higher training would NOT be included in the calculation of absence from work, provided the total study leave do not exceed 40 calendar days or 20 calendar days in the respective period. All study leave would need prior approval from the Education Committee.
6. With effect from 1st July 2008, Higher Specialist Trainees are allowed to take 40 calendar days due to vacation leave and/or study leave within two consecutive 3 months training period once only during higher specialist training. Short study leave (up to 10-14 day duration) during the two consecutive 3 months training period would NOT be included in the calculation of absence from work, provided the total study leave do not exceed 40 calendar days in the respective period. All study leave would need prior approval from the Education Committee.
7. Please refer to the relevant subspecialty training and development documents for subspecialty trainee requirements.
